Magnificent Crops Have Smashed All Records and 1909 Will Stand Out As An Exceptional Year All Round—West Rejoices in its Prosperity and Expresses its Gratitude.

Winnipeg, November 3.—In no part of the Dominion is there greater cause for thanksgiving than in the prairie provinces of the west. The gratitude of the people for the blessings of a bountiful harvest may well be expressed in the most enthusiastic manner. Never before in the history of the country has there been a season whose results in the line of production gave better reason for devout thanksgiving to Providence.

NO TARIFF WAR WITH CANADA

President Taft Will Not Permit Disfranchisement of Negroes

Detroit, Nov. 3.—A special despatch from Washington says:

"The United States is not going to have a tariff war with Canada. The fact has not yet been officially announced, and it will not be until after the president returns to Washington, but it is a fact nevertheless. It has required but a brief scrutiny of the possibilities of such a war to scare the Canada is the very best, single customer, population considered, which exports to the United States have. It would be in a position to make so much trouble in such an event that it would have a disastrous effect on any part in the United States fostering a war. This has become plain, and therefore the commission has been instructed to find out what is really going on, and understand that it has so, and that it will report to the president in due time that Canada does not discriminate against the United States in the manner that it calls for the imposition of discriminatory rates on imports from the Dominion.

"Of course it is a fact that Canada does discriminate against the United States to a certain extent, and that the new tariff schedule drawn in by the United States is a very unfair one to enable the United States to get out punishment for it. In fact,

SHACKLING THE RAILWAY COMMISSION.

A dispatch comes from Ottawa which has a railway extension question on hand. The federal government has approved the level crossing proposal and Chairman Mather, secretary of the committee on the subject of the recent federal legislation to deal with dangerous crossings, has been thickly settled districts.

The impact of this dispatch is being pondered. It is being pondered, however, the opinion that a railway company is conferring a favor on a city by not enclosing its tracks in a fence. The chairman of the Commission says in effect that a company will not be allowed to make a level crossing unless the city has taken the necessary steps to will away its liability before the matter goes up to the Commission. The dispatch indicates the inability of the board to remedy matters which are left to the Ottawa authorities have given away their side of the case.

It is strange, of course, but none the less a fact, that Parliament and the Railway Commission are not anxious to protect the lives and property of people than are the cities of Canada. The Railway Commission is practically the agent and has elected it to be the agent of the cities. It is not fair to the cities. The party has been elected to make the law, and it is not fair to the cities. The party has been elected to make the law, and it is not fair to the cities. The party has been elected to make the law, and it is not fair to the cities.

TAMMANY TRIUMPHS.
The mayor of New York, who is a candidate for the other office next year, was limited when the machine had abandoned the idea of electing him to the other offices and proposed to elect its forces to secure the return of a chief executive. For this purpose it picked out a candidate with a good record—even a record for making cities. Tammany did not have a candidate. Tammany did not have a candidate. Tammany did not have a candidate.

Power Fight in Port Arthur.
Port Arthur, Ont., Nov. 4.—The fight on the power question which is to be held in a vote tomorrow is very hot. The companies are making their best efforts to get the vote of the Port Arthur people in favor of the Ontario and Western Power company. The Commission is not a bargaining body. It is a court of justice and as such should do no justice to the railway companies as strictly as to the public. Wherever a city can be shown to be a disadvantageous loss, the hands of the Commission are tied and the company gets its way as though there were no such thing as a public interest.

One trouble is that our cities have not come yet to recognize the character and powers of the Railway Commission. Another is that they are frequently impatient of delay and will accept a pseudo-bargain when they do not understand rather than stand squarely on their rights and appeal for protection to the authority created to protect them. That the Commission is not impartial is proven by a fair chance, witness their present attitude on the willingness of municipal authorities to grant unnecessary concessions and their apparent regret that they have no power to make a work to which a city has given its consent.

NOT QUALIFIED.

The Toronto News smooths its city list, says that Mr. J. H. McLeod, a Conservative, has been named as a possible candidate for the position of mayor. Mr. McLeod, member for Selkirk, has been named as a possible candidate for the position of mayor. Mr. McLeod, member for Selkirk, has been named as a possible candidate for the position of mayor.

But the Montreal Herald goes into the case in analytic fashion and says: "It is not just to protest, in the name of common humanity, against the commissioning of Mr. Foster of the British ministry, and secondly, to some of the reports, it is in the interest of the public to know that which could possibly tend towards the Commission. The Winnipeg Tribune says: 'Mr. Foster to resume the leadership of the opposition in the House of Commons to oppose the election of a Canadian name.'"

Mr. Foster has been named as a possible candidate for the position of mayor. Mr. Foster has been named as a possible candidate for the position of mayor. Mr. Foster has been named as a possible candidate for the position of mayor.

Be a success: be one of those men who amount to something: be one of those who GIVE orders, not one of those who RECEIVE them.

REMEMBER KIPLING'S OLD MILLIONAIRE in "The Mary Gloster," who, when dying, turned to his son and said:

"I made myself and a million and married at twenty-three Ten thousand men on the pay-roll, and forty freighters at sea.
I didn't begin with asking: I took the chance and I stuck—
I took the chances they wouldn't, and now they're calling it luck.
Fifty years between them and every year of it tight,
And now I'm Sir Anthony Gloster, dying a baronite.
They asked me how I did it, and I gave them the Scripture text,
"You keep your light so shining—a little in front o' the next!"

You can be like this old man: we all can, but we must have the pluck. Being timid never pays. Take the bull by the horns, grasp the thistle in a tight, firm grasp and it will not hurt you. The financial magnates of to day were the men who took the chances, who had the pluck, the nerve, the courage, the heart. You can do the same—BE A SUCCESS. BUY AND MAKE YOUR MARK

CHICAGO GRAIN MARKETS. Chicago, Nov. 3.—Many pit traders in wheat today took the long side of December at the outset, but they were not so sure of the threatening move as was discernible. It was a look that suggested determination behind it. This was due to the fact that the two or three days the "grizzlies" of the trade have been having things pretty much their own way, and the decline in value had the effect of waving a red flag in front of them.

GLADSTONE SPEAKS IN SEANCE HELD BY STEAD

English Journalist Gives Views of "The Grand Old Man." Ex-Prime Minister, Lord Dead, Says that the Lords Should Pass the Budget.

LONDON, Nov. 3.—William T. Stead, at the request of the Daily Chronicle, has induced his spirit, "Julius," to obtain an interview with William Gladstone on the budget. According to the telegraphic report furnished, the first was most successful and the definite statement was secured from the grand old man.

The scene occurred at Mr. Stead's house, with the medium, a stenographer and Mr. Stead present, while the Gladstonian personalities, taking part, included "Julius," Cardinal Manning, Wm. Stead, Jr., and Mr. Gladstone.

The seance opened with a prayer and the singing of hymns, then the clairvoyant reported that on the previous evening she had received a long message from Mr. Gladstone, which was much involved with even more than the usual Gladstonian paraphrases, wherein Mr. Gladstone expressed considerable disinclination to return to "the limited melancholia of the arena of politics," as from "the present outlook where a ordinary estate a little more than a moment, a paragraph on the printed page of time, the club and fire of events from day to day matters little."

After explaining how his mind was occupied with the manifestation of the divine omnipotence, Mr. Gladstone confessed: "An immense current of spiritual, ever-renewed, vibration is drawing me toward another estate of energy. I seem for the moment to leave the rear of distant thunder, to feel the consciousness of suspense, the anticipation of turmoil and strife of angry party warfare."

Finally, Gladstone agreed to speak, but, before he had the opportunity (Cardinal Manning intervened with a blessing. Then spoke Gladstone:—

"Julius has told me some one else came to come in touch with me concerning the present position of my old party and also on the state of English politics generally. The arena of the political world was always distasteful to me. I only held my position from a sense of duty to my race."

Views on Budget.
Gladstone, when induced to express his views on the budget, said:—
"In my opinion the upper chamber would meet most judiciously if they reject this financial measure. I can only understand that there will be much to be said for it; nevertheless, it would be wise policy for them to pass this measure in agreement with the principles embodied in the bill. The said proposals have obtained my support, but the licensing clause I can only partly in sympathy with. This section of the bill should not be too rigidly insisted upon, as some-clauses are too crudely contrived and will tend to produce much friction and confusion in their application."

Mr. Gladstone continued that the old histories of a politician were reviewed within him, but he retired to get away from the turmoil. Mr. Stead induced him to say:—
"All my old instincts for battle, all that made me what I was as a politician are against the dominance of the South."

Battle Cry.
Gladstone, when pressed, gave this battle cry:—

"Away with that inert mass of unrepresentative opinion. The time is now pressing for a distinct, clear issue. Let my people, let my old war-rings appeal to the country on this definite issue. This is a war cry which will rally to it many of the forces many of the units, which at the present moment are in the balance. Let the cry be definite, clear, precise. It would not be advisable for the discussion of parliament to occur immediately."

"A compromise by the government is advisable, but when the issue has been narrowed, when the die has been cast, the step taken, then definitely clear, united action must be taken quickly."

"That means," interposed Mr. Stead, "down with the House of Lords altogether?"
"No," retorted Gladstone, "only with the Lords as present constituted. I am distinctly in favor of a second chamber."

"Will you give the lords any financial control?" asked Stead.

"Financial control should be vested entirely in the Lower House."

In Touch With Westminster.
"You keep in touch with the people at Westminster?" asked Stead.
"I am occasionally in contact with them. The energies liberated through this bureau have more strongly linked me with the political sphere and will endeavor so far as possible to throw myself into the conflict, in spirit and encouragement those whom I can assist to carry onward and forward the grand old banner of Liberalism."

"Yes, I will do this. We are going on to victory, notwithstanding the forces of selfishness and obscurantism. We shall win, but the struggle will be severe, as many slubbers on my old open face will have to be converted into a more virile and energetic one. This is one of the worst critical periods in the history of the British race and upon the result depends the advancement or retardation of the nation."

"Let the nation not be paralyzed by motions of tacit reform, but pouring itself of selfishness, let it turn its attention not only to the understanding of its real property to the comprehension of the vital factors in the health of its national life." Gladstone here ended with a promise to again communicate through "Julius."

New Bank Block in Vancouver.
Vancouver, Nov. 3.—The bank of O.K. has been diverted. The canon who prohibited the marriage to a canon who is a sister.

ON WAY TO BE SOLD AS JUNK.

Nov. 11 Five Turkish Battleships Go to Scrap Heap.

Washington, Nov. 3.—Five steel and steel battleships have been received from the Turkish government to be sold as scrap on one of the most notable piles of scrap from ever put up for sale, nearly one-half of the Ottoman navy, as it appeared on paper.

On November 11 bids will be received by the Ports for the sale of five battleships. Their construction at a time when that country ranks near the bottom of the list of naval powers, is a step by the new regime to regain the Empire's lost prestige. New ships will take the place of the discarded ones.

The battleships offered for sale are the Ataturk, the Mahmutid, the Osmanli, the Orkhanli, and the Hamidid. The first four were constructed in England in 1894 and 1895 while the Hamidid was not launched until 1893. The ships are of one type, built of steel, they carry 12-inch guns, and have a speed of 14 knots an hour.

For Richard Gamble of the British navy, with a number of subordinate English officers are now engaged in re-examining the Turkish navy. They have decided that the policy of preference must end and at the same time the names of the five vessels are stricken from the list of battleships as ineffective. They would be sold to the highest bidder as junk. The dealers through which the vessels have been invited to bid.

BROCKLEBANK STILL ON SCENT

Calgary Aldermen Still Investigating Street Car Passes.

Calgary, Nov. 3.—Alderman Brocklebank has been doing a little investigating of his own, relative to the street car pass question during the past week, and he has been discovered that 160 of the passes were printed on September 3, ten days before the alderman voted passes for himself. He has been trying to ascertain who was responsible for printing so many passes without any instructions, but he says he has failed.

He does not mean to infer that all of these 160 passes, with the exception of those issued by the alderman, are now being used by somebody, but he is very much interested to know who took it upon himself to have the passes printed, and what kind of a wholesale distribution of the passes was contemplated when the passes were printed.

Unless he gets further light on the subject in the meantime, he will probably ask for an investigation of the matter at the next meeting of the council.

Quebec Priest Demands Damages.
Montreal, Nov. 3.—Alleging he had accused him of divulging secret confessions, Rev. Father J. P. Desrosiers, parish priest of St. Pierre, has taken action for $2,000 damages against E. Gaudin, one of his parishioners.

The case also has taken action for $100 damages against the town clerk of St. Pierre, J. A. Lafleur, alleging verbal insults.

PREPARED TO FIGHT CHURCH.

Premier Brind Says Clerical Influence Shall Not Control Schools.

Paris, Nov. 3.—M. Brind, the premier in an eloquent discourse last night, at the dedication of the home of the Educational League, at which President Fallieres and several of the ministers were present, announced that one of the government's principal occupations would be the protection of the public schools, whose enemies are the real enemies of the republic.

He counselled the people to be calm under attacks as he was convinced that the country's enemies were setting a trap and hoped to win over public opinion through excesses of passion and anger at the defenses of the public schools.

Pointing out that the last struggle was not with the church but against those who pretended to defend the church, M. Brind said that France will never order from the outside and that Catholic France, which does not view religion as the instrument of a political propaganda, never will permit the exercise of brutal force against public institutions to which the nation is dedicated.

"The public school," he continued, "are the hope of the future security of France, and if their enemies succeed in undermining the schools it is the republic itself which will be weakened. The government will strive to secure adequate laws, but the support and defense of the people will be most effective."

COTTON IS TOO EXPENSIVE.

Professor Discovers Way of Treating Fibre of Kapok Tree to Make Cloth.

Berlin, Nov. 2.—Owing to the high price of cotton the German textile industry has been turning their attention toward fibers that might be used as a substitute for it. Recently a company at Chemnitz has succeeded in spinning the fibre contained in the seed of the kapok or silk cotton tree of the tropics. In its natural state this fibre cannot be spun owing to its extreme brittleness, but Professor Guldberg, of Chemnitz, has found a method of treating it to make it spinable, and the yarn is described as having a peculiar soft, silky feeling. The fibre has hitherto been in use as a padding material for furniture and in making pillows and similar articles and it has answered the purpose so well that the cultivation of the tree has already been introduced in the German colonies of New Guinea and East Africa. The fibre has the advantage of being considerably cheaper than cotton, but no information is at hand showing the wearing qualities of fabrics made from kapok yarn.

BELGIANS INTRODUCE REFORMS.
In Congo Independent State—To Be Opened to Free Trade.

Brussels, Nov. 2.—The minister of colonies today announced in the Chamber of Deputies the government's project for reforms in the Congo Independent State. The colony will be opened to free trade in their successive stages from July 1911, to July 1912. The state reserves five acres of 500,000 hectares (1,500,000 acres) each. The concession companies must negotiate with the government for the delivery of their concessions for free trade. Under July the natives will be better treated, taxes reduced and wherever possible they will be paid in money. The food tax will be abandoned, perhaps many slaves suppressed and the government agents will be no longer led at the expense of the natives. The rubber forests will be replanted. King Leopold during the present year will give $300,000 to fight the sleeping sickness and an additional $100,000 in 1910. The government promises that $300,000 and $400,000 in improving sanitation. Congo will be opened, especially agricultural and professional. A first credit of $250,000 will be asked for the introduction of these reforms.

N.Y.C. TO SPEND $125,000,000.

Huge Sum to Go for New Equipment and Great Terminal.

New York, Nov. 2.—President W. B. Brown of the New York Central and Hudson River Railroad, announced today that the management had entered upon a campaign of extraordinary expenditures to meet extraordinary traffic demands.

The company had planned contracts in the last few days, he said, for $25,000,000 worth of new locomotives, passenger and freight cars, and intends to spend $60,000,000 more—$85,000,000 in all—in reducing grades, straightening curves, and laying new tracks, exclusive of $50,000,000 terminal improvements in New York City.

"These expenditures," he said, "are absolutely necessary to meet the demands of business. The traffic records for the months of September and October to date are said to have exceeded anything in the company's history. The previous high water mark was for the first three-quarters of 1907, just before the panic. We could have ten per cent. greater business today, if we had the equipment to handle it."

Contest in a Montreal Division.
Montreal, Nov. 3.—N. K. Lefebvre has accepted the opposition nomination in the election for the St. James division, Montreal, for the legislature. He will have the support of Henri Bourassa and the fight promises to be one of the liveliest and most sensational in the history of Quebec politics. In the general election Premier Gwynne was beaten in this division by Bourassa, who was also elected for St. Hyacinthe and elected to all for that seat, accepting the present election. The Liberal candidate is Ald. Robitaille.

Rev. McKim Receives Appointment.
Edmonton, Nov. 3.—The Rev. C. W. McKim, rector of St. Albans parish here, has been appointed archdeacon of Kerwin, in succession to the late Archdeacon Cooper, of Dryden, who died in June last. Archdeacon McKim will continue to reside in Kerwin, and his duties as rector of St. Albans will be carried on as heretofore.
